

Measuring the Mission's Impact

The Mission's 13 programs focus on education, community building, healthcare, and economic stability. And every year, the Mission quantifies the work that we do by counting our impact. Our 2025 Impact Statement shares the numbers behind our work, the hundreds of students who attend EdGE, the amount of food received by community members, and the hundreds of volunteer hours.

Here are a few that stand out...

$50,000 Grant Supports Youth Programming

Mission was recently awarded a $50,000 grant from the Evelyn S. and K.E. Barrett Foundation to support two youth education programs operating in Maine's rural communities. Journey serves Washington County teens while the Teaching & Learning Collaborative (TLC) works with children aged five to 13 living on outer, unbridged islands.

The Journey program is based on the Mission's Downeast Campus in Cherryfield and works with students in the Downeast region. Journey is a cohort-based model that provides seventh through twelfth grade students opportunities to...

Stepping Aboard the Sunbeam

From the desk of Sunbeam Nurse Taylor Wood

One morning this summer, I was sitting at the kitchen table enjoying my coffee when I came across the job posting for the Sunbeam Nurse. I read it over and over, trying to find the catch. What was I missing? Was it possible that I found my dream job and it happened to be in my backyard? I quickly pulled up my resume and started reformatting. I was happy to delete all of the mundane details of hospital nursing and focus more on my volunteer work as a community member and the odd jobs that brought me to this place in my life (if anyone needs their pinball machine fixed, I'm your girl!).

Over the next few months, as I progressed through the interview process and held my breath, I thought a lot about healthcare here in Maine...

Community Ice Skating on the Downeast Campus

Join the Mission for ice skating every Saturday, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. this winter. The Mission provides both ice skates and helmets for children and adults. In addition to ice skating, there are indoor activities including board games. Lunch, snacks, and hot cocoa are provided. These activities are free and open to all community members.

“This is a great event where families can mingle and enjoy the outdoors,” shares Community Engagement Coordinator Kaysie Logan. “People of all ages...”
